Etymology. The word "revolucion" is known in French from the 13th century, and "revolution" in English by the late fourteenth century, with regard to the revolving motion of celestial bodies. "Revolution" in the sense of representing abrupt change in a social order is attested by at least 1450. Political usage of the term had been well established by 1688 in the description of the replacement ...

History and usage. The French Revolution gave the English language three politically descriptive words denoting anti-progressive politics: "reactionary", "conservative" and "right". "Reactionary" derives from the French word r actionnaire (a late 18th century coinage based on the word r action, "reaction") and "conservative" from conservateur, identifying monarchist parliamentarians opposed ...
